

Clash Foreshadowed Between Departments On O'Callaghan Case

State and Labor Branches of Government Take Differing Views on Admitting Cork Lord Mayor Without Passport.

SECRETARY OF LABOR PAROLES O'CALLAGHAN

Friction Between Departments Said to Have Existed for Some Time on Admission of Aliens.

Washington, January 6.—Conflict between the department of state and labor was foreshadowed today over final decision as to the admission of Donald J. O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who was apprehended by immigration authorities upon his arrival at Newport News from Ireland as a stowaway without a passport.

Action of Secretary Wilson today in paroling O'Callaghan upon his own recognizance, it was indicated, had been taken without consultation with the state department, as the first knowledge of it was obtained by Acting Secretary Davis, of that department, from newspaper men. Even should O'Callaghan now be deported, it was held at the state department that before that could be brought about, there would be nothing to prevent his coming to Washington and accomplishing his announced mission to the United States of testifying before the committee of the committee of 100 investigating Irish conditions.

Says Ships Were Made To Plough the Seas, And Not for Arrest

Charleston, S. C., January 6.—In releasing the steamship Saxon, of the Clinchfield Navigation company, which was held after seizure of whisky on board, United States District Judge Henry A. M. Smith, in his opinion, says that "the ancient and immemorial maxim of the law is that ships were made to plough the seas, and should be released as far as possible from all detention that would prevent them from accomplishing that main and primary purpose."

Even a Policewoman Must Have a Boudoir To Powder and Paint

Boston, January 6.—A boudoir at police headquarters, a suite of rooms finished in pearl gray and gold, with expensive mirrors, soft lounges and easy chairs was begun today. This restful spot in the grim block of buildings that constitute the police administration center in Faneuil square is the department's preparation for the event of women in its ranks. Policewomen were authorized recently and examinations have been held and it is expected to have the boudoir ready by the time appointments are announced.

BILL TO INCREASE SIZE OF CONGRESS BY 48 S OKAYED

Reapportionment Measure
Will Give One New Congressional District to Georgia, Making State
Total Thirteen.

CALIFORNIA GAINS FIVE CONGRESSMEN

Efforts of Representative
Tinkham and New York Negroes to Reduce
Southern Representation
Fail Before Committee.

Washington, January 6.—The reapportionment of congressmen would be increased to 488 under a bill which will be reported tomorrow by chairman Seligman of the census committee, to fix the reapportionment for the next ten years under the 1920 census. The bill would mean an increase of 48 from the present membership of 440. No state would lose any representation.

At the same time Representative Siegel will introduce a constitutional amendment to limit the size of future houses to 500 members.

Adoption of the reapportionment measure would result in an increase in the total vote of the electoral college to 579, making 288 necessary for the election of a president and vice president of the United States.

California would make the largest gain of new members—five—under the bill, bringing her total to 16. Michigan, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania would gain four each; Illinois and Texas three; Massachusetts, New Jersey and North Carolina two each, while Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Georgia, Maryland, Minnesota, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wyoming would each gain one.

Short and Ugly Word Is Passed, Stewart to Fort

Savannah Mayor Romps
on State Prohibition Director, While Enforcement Officer Mercer
Mercilessly Plays "Best Known Citizens."

Savannah, Ga., January 6.—(Special.)—Mayor Murray Stewart today made his emphatic defense of the attitude of Savannah officials toward the prohibition laws. Following Colonel Jesse Mercer's visit here as state prohibition enforcement officer, Mayor Stewart today replied in vigorous terms to comment alleged by an Atlanta afternoon paper to have been made by Major J. A. Fort, prohibition director for Georgia.

Major Fort was quoted to the mayor as saying: "The controversy between Messrs. Mercer and Stewart is nothing more than a move on the part of the Savannah municipal officers to cover up the conditions existing there."

The mayor said in reply: "If Major Fort is correctly quoted he is just an unmitigated liar."

The mayor protests that "we have been always anxious to uphold the laws on the books."

Mr. Mercer, who is still in Savannah to investigate and make a confidential report later on Savannah conditions, said in an interview last night:

"When I arrived in Savannah the first technical duty demanded by my official position should have been to make a friend and ally of your executive head, Mayor Stewart. But my moral duty prevented me from making any success along these lines."

Britain Is Accused Of 'Emulating Hun' By Senator Phelan

Senator McKellar Also Advocates Retaliatory
Policy and Cutting British Supply of American Oil.

CALIFORNIA SENATOR CHARGES DUPLICITY

Says England Pleads Inability to Pay Interest
on American Loan,
While Buying Up the World's Oil Supply.

Washington, January 6.—Great Britain was accused of "emulating the Hun" in pursuing her post-war oil policy by Senator Phelan, democrat, California, speaking in the senate today after Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, had advocated cutting off the British supply of American oil unless Americans were able to pay interest on the war debt.

The California senator added to his accusation the charge that Great Britain at the same moment she was appealing for American aid in the war, was declaring her "back to the wall" was buying up oil lands in other countries. With this charge Senator Phelan coupled another, asserting that Great Britain obtained four billion dollars in loans from the United States and used her own money in an endeavor to acquire monopoly of the world oil supply.

Senator McKellar, a few moments before the Pacific coast senator had made his charge, had declared that Great Britain was putting forward claims of inability to pay interest on American war loans and was buying up the world oil resources. England, while buying up these oil resources, Mr. McKellar said, was using American oil and saving her own supplies for the future.

The United States senator, Mr. McKellar declared, has the power to "bring England to terms" by refusing permission for the obtaining of oil from America and in that connection urged immediate action on his bill proposing reciprocity for the oil of the world.

"She Is My Wife," And Hubby Gives Up Better Half

At Point of Pistol, Wisconsin Man Signs Paper and Surrenders Spouse
to "Perfect Stranger."

Madison, Wis., January 6.—Philip Frasen is doing the best he can to take care of his two-year-old baby, and perform his duties as chief decorator at the University of Wisconsin at the same time.

His wife has left him.

The circumstances of her going have left Frasen somewhat dazed.

"I came home last Tuesday night and my wife met me at the hall," he said. "She said, 'I have found me a new man, and I have found her. She loves me, and is going with me. Sign this paper.'"

"He pushed a paper at me. It read: 'I hereby waive all claims on Charlotte de Vov, her possessions or estate of any kind. Done in Madison, Wis., January 6, 1921.' I looked at my wife. I couldn't believe it. We have been happily married for ten years. She nodded. 'I signed, and as they were leaving this man, who called himself Pierre Paul Author, but whose right name is Pierre de Vov, shoved a pistol in my back and told me if I ever reported the matter to the police he would come back and kill me.'"

FELLOW FEELING CHANGES OUTLOOK

Chicago, January 6.—Mrs. Pierre Paul Author, wife of the Highland Park chemical engineer, who was mourning the death of her husband, following the finding of a will he left prior to his disappearing Tuesday night when she learned of the statement by Philip Frasen, of Madison.

CLEMENCY ASKED FOR GORDON RAY? PETITION HEARD

Gordon Ray, of Cherokee county, who shot and killed his second cousin, Taylor Wright, two years ago and is now serving a term of ten years for manslaughter, has applied for clemency, and the petition was argued Thursday before the state prison commission.

An affidavit was presented to the commission by Attorney John Wood, who represents Ray, which stated that Wright told a citizen of Cherokee county that "I reckon he got me, but it was a good thing he did, for I was going to get him."

ACCIDENTAL SHOT IS FATAL TO CHILD

Charles C. Bugel, Young
Son of Mr. and Mrs. C.
M. Bugel, of 42 South
Prado, Dies Immediately
After Receiving the Wound.

Charles C. Bugel, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Bugel, of 42 South Prado, accidentally shot and killed himself shortly before 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon while playing with a pistol in his parents' room.

The little boy went to the room of his parents to hang up a calendar. While there he found his father's pistol, which his father had placed beneath his pillow. The father, a traveling man for an automobile concern, was away from home.

A pistol shot was heard shortly after the child had gone into the room, and members of the family rushed in and found the little boy lying upon the floor, shot directly beneath the heart. His mother, sister and grandmother were in the house at the time.

Services of a nearby physician were secured at once, but in spite of all that could be done the little boy died in about ten minutes after receiving the wound.

Efforts were made Thursday afternoon to communicate with Mr. Bugel, who is believed to be in either Tampa or Miami, Fla. The child's body was taken to the undertaking establishment of Barclay & Brandon.

He is survived, besides his parents, by a small sister, Helen, and his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret M. Patterson.

OLD GUARD BEGINS FORMATION HERE OF MILITARY UNIT

Movement, Based on Civic Pride and Military Necessity, Launched at Meeting Tuesday Night.

INFANTRY BATTALION PLANNED FOR ATLANTA

Will Be One of Few Remaining Vacancies in State—Recruiting Station to Be Opened at Once.

Basing their movement upon civic pride and the necessity of military preparedness, the "Old Guard," composed of ninety-five of the most representative of Atlanta citizens, launched plans at a meeting in the Ansley hotel Thursday night for the immediate organization in this city of an infantry battalion of the Georgia national guard. Each member of the "Old Guard," from Commander Peter F. Clarke, to the lowest "buck" private, has pledged his active support to the movement, and during the next several days a recruiting station will be opened in the heart of the city's business section.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash, one of the principal speakers at the meeting, declared that in the reorganization of the national guard of Georgia only three vacancies are now left, and that unless some active interest is shown by the citizens of Atlanta, the city will be excluded. The war department, he said, has allotted this state, among other units, one infantry regiment consisting of nine rifle and three machine gun companies.

"As evidence of the interest shown in other sections of Georgia, there now remains only one rifle company and two machine gun companies to complete the regimental organization," he continued. "By changing one of the existing rifle companies to a machine gun company, Atlanta, by organizing only two rifle companies and one machine gun company could secure the battalion."

McCord Boosts Movement.

Joseph A. McCord, chairman of the directors of the sixth district Federal Reserve bank and captain of Company B of the "Old Guard," emphasized the movement to centralize the Federal Reserve banks of the nation, pointing out the possibility of Atlanta losing the institution here on account of the present lack of military protection.

The state of Georgia will offer a reward for the apprehension of Thad F. Pirkle, alleged driver of the car which killed the little girl, sisters last Friday in Oakhurst, according to the statement of Governor Hugh M. Dorsey Thursday night.

Governor Dorsey declared "the officers should be able to locate Pirkle, but I will offer a reward Friday morning. It will probably be for the amount requested."

Sheriff J. A. McCurdy, of DeKalb county, filed his request that a $500 reward be offered for Pirkle with the governor Thursday afternoon. It was intimated in December last night that the city commission would also be requested to offer a reward, and certain citizens were busily engaged in making up an additional sum to be offered as a supplementary reward.

resisting the temperate strata of crookdom throughout the nation.

W. R. Mannin, ranch owner, of Dallas, Texas, who was recently fleeced out of $8,700 in a confidence game in Atlanta, and who has since spent much of his time in an effort to run down the members of the gang by which he was victimized, visited the Memphis prisoners Thursday, but was unable to recognize any of them.

Manning has appeared before the grand jury in Atlanta and disclosed to that body the means by which the so-called syndicate fleeced him out of the funds.

To Resume Probe.

The grand jury probe in Atlanta will be resumed as soon as Mr. Boykin gets back to his office, which in all probability, will be Friday morning.

Mr. Stephens served the grand jury at a short session Thursday morning and no business of any importance was transacted.

When the Associated Press dispatch from Memphis was read to Mr. Stephens by a Constitution reporter Thursday night, he stated that the men in question, if they were the men under indictment in Fulton county, had registered under different names in Memphis. He stated that he had no idea who the Memphis men are and would not make a guess.

PENROSE TO PUSH EMERGENCY TARIFF

Committee Chairman Announces His Support for Fordney Measure Before Senate—Seeks Rate Modification.

Washington, January 6.—Supporters of the Fordney emergency tariff were given encouragement today by the announcement of Chairman Penrose, of the senate finance committee, that he would use his influence to obtain passage of the bill. The Pennsylvania senator, in a formal statement, issued after his committee opened hearings on the measure, assured his republican colleagues that he would join them in pushing the legislation through at this session, but declared for modification of the rates carried by the bill as it passed the house.

Senate opponents of the Fordney bill, however, were not disheartened by the Penrose announcement. They were inclined to accept the public definition of his attitude as a political move, while democratic senators numbered among the opponents asserted the statement was issued as a reply to republican senators on the committee, who had demanded that Mr. Penrose say, in effect, whether he would stand with or against them.

Democratic opponents of the bill pointed out that they, with the aid of Senator Penrose, had succeeded in getting open hearings and expressed confidence that the story of "the other side" would carry sufficient weight to make passage difficult if possible at all. They added that they hoped to annex so many amendments to the present bill that the house would reject it in conference, thereby defeating any tariff legislation until the extra session.

While the senate committee was holding its initial hearings and while senators were attempting to assess the effect of Senator Penrose's statement, the house ways and means committee heard more than twenty witnesses on revision of the present Underwood tariff. The house committee took up schedule A, and the witnesses discussed from technical standpoint the question of higher import duties on chemicals, paints and oils, which are included under the first division of the Underwood law.

Hearings before the house committee will continue indefinitely, but the senate plans to complete its work on the emergency tariff early next week.

Conditions in the agricultural industry, described as deplorable and for which a remedy was declared to exist in the Fordney bill, were portrayed in testimony before the senate committee by F. J. Hagenbarth, president of the National Wood Growers' association; George M. Thurman, secretary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' association, and W. F. Schilling, of St. Paul, president of the Twin City Milk Producers' association.

The last witness before the committee, Mr. Schilling, asked that duty on butter be changed to be included in the bill. He proposed that the committee fix a rate between 2 and 10 cents a pound, and between 7 cents and 15 cents a pound on cheese.

BILL TO INCREASE CONGRESS APPROVED

Virginia and Wisconsin would gain one each.

No action was taken by the committee on the demand of Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, for the application of the fourteenth amendment and reduction of representation to those states in which occur alleged disfranchisements, on account of suffrage qualifications, principally literacy tests and poll tax requirements.

Unanimous Support.

The basis of representation is fixed in the constitution's bill at one member for each 218,979 inhabitants as compared to 211,877, as at present.

Members of the committee were said to have been practically unanimous in support of the bill after an effort to fix the membership at 460 had failed.

Under the committee's bill the states would have representation as follows:

Alabama 11, Arizona 1, Arkansas 8, California 16, Colorado 4, Connecticut 6, Delaware 1, Florida 4, Georgia 12, Idaho 2, Illinois 30, Indiana 13, Iowa 11, Kansas 8, Kentucky 11, Louisiana 8, Maine 4, Maryland 7, Massachusetts 15, Michigan 17, Minnesota 11, Mississippi 8, Missouri 16, Montana 2, Nebraska 6, Nevada 1, New Hampshire 2, New Jersey 14, New Mexico 2, New York 47, North Carolina 12, North Dakota 3, Ohio 16, Oklahoma 9, Oregon 4, Pennsylvania 16, Rhode Island 3, South Carolina 8, South Dakota 3, Tennessee 10, Texas 21, Utah 2, Vermont 2, Virginia 11, Washington 6, West Virginia 7, Wisconsin 12, Wyoming 2.

The bill provides that in case of any change in the number of representatives in any state such additional representatives shall be elected at the next congressional election. The bill also provides that the legislature of each state shall pass re-districting laws.

LARSEN AGAIN VICTOR, AFTER TINKHAM CLASH

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN.

Washington, January 6.—The hearing before the house committee on the question of congressional apportionment from the south coast today, and Representative Tinkham, of Boston, who is leading the fight for restriction of the number of representatives against colored voters, read the following article from The Atlanta Constitution, which appeared in the issue of October 25, 1926, taken from an address by the governor of Georgia by Thomas W. Hardwick:

"I shall urge the enfranchisement date of October 25, 1926, taken from an address by the governor of Georgia by Thomas W. Hardwick:

"The following conversation then ensued between Mr. Tinkham and Mr. Larsen—

Mr. Larsen—May I ask the gentleman from Massachusetts a question?

Mr. Tinkham—Yes.

Mr. Larsen—Do you not have a literary qualification for voters of Massachusetts?

Mr. Tinkham—Yes.

Mr. Larsen—Assuming the governor-elect of the great state of Massachusetts has not said that he would recommend such an amendment to the constitution of that state as would enfranchise its women in accordance with the provisions of the Susan E. Anthony amendment, and that he would also see to it that the ignorant women of that state would be disfranchised by reason of the literacy provision contained in the election laws of Massachusetts, yet would the statement being made does not every reasonable and reflective man know that is just what would be done?

Mr. Tinkham—If the governor of Massachusetts—

Mr. Larsen—(interrupting)—I would like to have you first answer that yes or no.

Mr. Tinkham—I cannot answer it yes or no.

Mr. Larsen—You can answer it yes or no and then make an explanation.

Mr. Tinkham—There are a number of conclusions, a number of statements—I could not answer that.

Mr. Larsen—You could not answer it?

Mr. Tinkham—No.

Mr. Tinkham did not answer any of the questions, and again Mr. Larsen left the committee room the victor.

NEGRO DEMANDED BY INDIANA MOB

Several Hundred March on County Jail, Seeking Negro Held for Assault.

Jeffersonville, Ind., January 6.—A crowd of several hundred men and boys marched to the county jail tonight and demanded surrender to them of a negro, held in connection with an assault upon a white woman here last night.

The jailer refused to surrender the negro and urged the crowd let the law take its course. Police did not interfere with the mob, which filled the streets in front of the jail. In the meantime, keepers turned off the lights in the jail and it was reported that the negro had been spirited away. The crowd gathered about 8 o'clock, but at 11 p. m. no attempt had been made to storm the jail.

Toronto, S. C., January 6.—Resolutions asking that salaries of all state officials from governor to coroner be reduced by the general assembly which convenes next week were adopted here today at a taxpayers' convention attended by several hundred farmers and business men.

Corporal Joseph K. Roberts, aged 22, of the United States marine corps, who has been a member of the corps for several years and has seen service in France, was married to Miss Lillian Hamilton, of 52 Oakland avenue, last Saturday night.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Richard Orme Flinn at the North Avenue Presbyterian church. Corporal Roberts, a native of Rutledge, has not only won the bronze stars of five major engagements of the late war, including Chateau Thierry, but has traveled about 50,000 miles. He has seen service in Mexico, Cuba, San Domingo, Haiti, France and Germany.

Are You Full of Life and Energy at 50? Still Going Strong—No?

Then Eat More Spinach and Carrots with Organic Iron to Help Give You Rich, Red Blood and Revitalize Your Wornout Exhausted Nerves.

YOU CANNOT BE STRONG AND WELL WITHOUT PLENTY OF IRON IN YOUR BLOOD. Without iron your blood loses its power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get sufficient strength and energy out of it.

Thousands of people suffer from iron-starvation of the blood and are weak, nervous and ailing all the while WITHOUT SUSPECTING THE REAL CAUSE OF THEIR TROUBLE.

THERE ARE 30,000,000,000,000 RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES IN YOUR BLOOD AND EACH ONE MUST HAVE IRON.

If you are not willing to eat the peas of fruits and vegetables and the husks of grain so as to get a sufficient quantity of organic iron for your blood, as nature intended you should do, then you should eat plenty of iron-containing foods like spinach, carrots and baked apples and re-fer to them from time to time with a little organic iron, which you can obtain from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron.

Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose of it is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating half a quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or four large apples. It's like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. Nuxated Iron is partially predigested and ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of various acids on small pieces of iron.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. If you are not feeling quite up to the mark telephone for a package today. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD—GIVES YOU NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY

GOVERNMENT COST OVER FIVE BILLION

Figures for 1920 Less Than Half Those of 1919. Gradual Reduction War Expenses Explains Reduction.

Washington, January 6.—The cost of running the United States government last year amounted to approximately $5,064,000,000, as against about $11,728,000,000 in 1919. The total expenditures outside of payments on the public debt were revealed today in accounts obtained from the daily treasury statements. Treasury officials said tonight that while ordinary disbursements are not yet come down to the $4,000,000,000 mark set by Secretary Houston in his estimate of the revenue needed for future fiscal years, expenditures would continue to fall. Gradual liquidation of war claims and expenses, officials declared, explained the drop in expenditures, which, they added, would have been greater but for the additional burdens such as loans and advances to the railroads imposed on the treasury.

WIDER PEACHTREE PROJECT GREETED WITH ENTHUSIASM

Property Owners Along Thoroughfare Solidly Back Proposal Made Before Commission, Boosters Say.

At a meeting of the Fulton county board of commissioners of roads and revenues Thursday afternoon citizens and property owners along Peachtree street appeared with enthusiastic plans for the revival of a project of many months ago, looking to the widening of this thoroughfare between Forrest and North avenues from its present width of 60 feet to an avenue of 80 feet from curb to curb.

Several months ago the city adopted a policy with reference to the width of Peachtree street, fixing a building line upon which all new buildings are supposed to be erected. This line provides for the setting back 10 feet on each side of all new structures, and such of the present buildings along the street as the property owners will agree to.

It was stated Friday night by several property owners who have already given their 10 feet and in some instances set back new structures to the new street line, that most of the citizens holding property on Peachtree street have already given their consent to the plan to widen the street, and it is believed that should the city and county reach an agreement with reference to the expense of the improvement, the big project will go forward within the next few months.

Grant Leads Project.
John W. Grant, one of the largest property owners on Peachtree street who, with Aline Chambers, attorney, led the movement before the county commissioners Thursday afternoon for the revival of the widening plan, could not be reached last night for a statement, but Mr. Grant's enthusiasm for the project has been voiced on several occasions, and it was stated by others present that he made a spirited appeal Thursday for the favorable consideration of the county head regarding the improvement.

Charles E. Byrd, who owns much property on Peachtree street, set back his building, now occupied by Belle Isle, and his new stores at the corner of North avenue and Peachtree in accordance with the new building line. Mr. Byrd gave thereby a strip 10 feet wide and more than 250 feet long on the street side of the property to the city for public use. He was thoroughly in accord with other owners in the widening project in a statement given The Constitution Thursday night.

To Afford Circulation.
Mr. Byrd stated that the widening of Peachtree street would not only serve the public of Atlanta by relieving congestion of traffic that now often hinders travel on Peachtree street, but that it would, by connecting up North avenue with the two Peachtrees, as explained above, afford a driveway of which the people of this city would always be proud.

It was said that the project, as now contemplated, did not go beyond North avenue, because of the fact that the widening project met, beyond this point, with its only obstacle to a uniformly-widened sidewalk and driveway. This obstruction is at the Ponce de Leon apartments, where a 5-foot sidewalk would have to be made to serve because of the inability of removing that part of the big apartment hotel that now extends over the new building line. It is not now planned to go beyond North avenue.

Need Imperative.
Mr. Candler stated that the need for the widening of this important thoroughfare is imperative from a standpoint of traffic demands at the present time, and he went further on that subject, to picture the greater need of the improvement a few years hence, when Atlanta shall have become a much larger city. Mr. Candler noted the improvements that have already resulted from the widening of Peachtree and West Peachtree streets from the business center to a point just below Currier street, and on West Peachtree street to Grant place, with the exception of a small portion between the Southern Bank building and the new Packard building. Mr. Candler urged that widening of West Peachtree street be made uniform at once, stating that it was understood all this work was to be completed before the white-way lights were put in place.

Other prominent property owners who were present in person, or by representation, were Marion C. Coker, who owns and operates as a real estate dealer in connection with many feet of Peachtree street frontage; F. G. Coker, who owns a large frontage on the street, and many others, all of whom showed great enthusiasm for the widening.

It has not been decided upon just what basis the citizens will make a proposition to the city fathers concerning the work at what time they will appear before the councilmen, but it is believed that every effort will be made to bring the big civic improvement to a head within the least possible time.

YOUR INVISIBLE GUEST

WHY SHOULD THOSE DIE WHOM YOU CAN SAVE?

The coat is one of ours.

The boy has been wounded, not with a bullet, but by hunger. He is one of the 3,500,000 children now passing "through the valley of the shadow of death" in Europe.

Little chaps eight years old have not reached the size of normal children of the age of two and a half.

Many cannot walk. Their little legs lack strength. They are dying by inches from hunger.

Ten dollars will save one of them from death and make him a normal, healthy child.

If it were your boy you could get the ten dollars and more.

You would gladly give it to save your neighbor's son.

The ache of the little body shriveling for want of food in rope is not made less by the miles between your home and his.

The mother's helpless agony is just as great as if she knelt at your feet and prayed for bread for her boy, instead of crying across the seas to you.

You will hear her. You will help.

Her home and yours will be happier when you take in your invisible guest, a little child, for dinner.

NEW COUNTY OFFICERS, ELECTED FOR LAMAR

Barnesville, Ga., January 6.—(Special.)—Lamar county's first election, aside from the recent democratic primary, was held today when the primary selections were confirmed, only a small vote being polled, as there was no opposition. The following democratic nominees were elected: J. E. Bush, mayor of Barnesville, representative in the legislature; B. H. Hardy, editor of the News-Gazette, Barnesville, ordinary; S. J. Childers, merchant, of Milner, clerk of the superior court; Z. T. Elliott, farmer, sheriff; Gus Smith, of Barnesville, tax collector; E. Luther Butler, farmer and former tax collector, of Monroe county, tax receiver; W. C. Jordan, merchant, of Barnesville, treasurer; Roger H. Taylor, farmer, of Unionville, surveyor; B. K. Crouch, barber, coroner.

Lamar county went into existence on January 1, but has been without officers thus far. It is expected the above officials will make bond and qualify immediately, so that the new county may begin to function. There has been great elation among the people of the new county over its creation.

Irritation and Breaking Out
Often Healed Over Night,
Says Skin Specialist.

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation. Mentho-sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Mentho-sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. Gutzon Borglum and Bourbon Prince
Visit Scene of Proposed Memorial

Viewing Stone Mountain for the first time, in company with Gutzon Borglum, the famous American sculptor who plans to convert the living rock into a time-defying memorial to the cause of the southern Confederacy, Prince Alfonso Louis de Bourbon, heir-apparent to the reigning monarch of Spain and an internationally recognized art connoisseur, declared that the project, the material and the subject were all too vast for him to voice adequate expression of his emotions as his eyes first rested on Georgia's gigantic granite monolith.

"The whole thing is too stupendous," said the prince, with only the slightest accent. "It is not for me to say what I feel. It is rather for you to obtain an expression from your great artist here," and he nodded to Mr. Borglum.

"He had told me of this great mountain. He had pictured its artistic possibilities to me so vividly that I determined to make this visit with him to see with my own eyes, but even his talents have not been able to picture in words the impressiveness of the mountain or the nobility of the plan that he has conceived and which he is about to execute. It is too stupendous," he repeated.

Unofficial Visit.
Prince Louis' visit to Atlanta is entirely unofficial. Practically his entire life has been spent in the study of art and especially sculpture. He is a friend of Mr. Borglum, having years ago spent some time in New York hearing of the Stone Mountain project. While in Atlanta, both he and Mr. Borglum are guests of S. H. Venable in Druid Hills.

Mr. Borglum says that his visit to Atlanta at this time is to consult with Mr. Venable and other Atlantans interested in the monument, with a view to general plans of reorganization.

"I will be here possibly a week," said the sculptor, "and right now I am not at liberty to say just what these plans of reorganization are, but I can state that I have every reason to believe that work on the monument will be renewed within thirty days at the point where it was interrupted by the world war."

However, Mr. Borglum indicated that the work would not be sponsored by any great organization and intimated that the work would be accomplished privately.

"I am to make several talks while here," said Mr. Borglum, "but I will not even know where and when I will speak until Thursday. In the meantime I expect to be very busy renewing Atlanta friendships."

Typical Bourbon.
In appearance, the prince is a dapper little fellow, who wears clothes of a distinctly continental cut; has a dapper monocle, which he rarely puts on his eye, but which he is typical of the Bourbon family, the famous chin being particularly noticeable.

Work on the Stone Mountain memorial was inaugurated in 1915 by Mr. Borglum under the auspices of the Stone Mountain Memorial association. It was interrupted by the war with Germany, and the visit here of Mr. Borglum is the first indication of the revival of the work.

The new San Diego and Arizona railway has placed in use some foot-operated switches that make the life of the brakeman much easier and at the same time prevent a switch from throwing itself in the jar of a long freight train's passing over the rail intersection. When the arm operating the switch is thrown it falls under a spring catch from which it cannot emerge until the catch is opened by the foot lever. It is thus additionally safe and at the same time the brakeman finds it much easier and speedier than when he must put a pin in place after throwing the switch to hold the switch from jumping open.

BANKRUPTCY SOUGHT BY LOCAL CITIZENS

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed Thursday in the United States court by Sam Asman, of 283 East Fair street, who set forth his liabilities as $4,775.51, with assets fixed at $1,520. The petition named many Atlanta firms as creditors and set forth notes aggregating $3,975, all endorsed by R. Mansons, of Savannah. Asman is a salesman for the Southern railway, working for the Southern railway, filed a voluntary petition, claiming liabilities of $561 and no assets.

MORE WARM WEATHER
Says Weather Predictor Von
Hermann in Forecast.

The thermometer-in-chief of the city of Atlanta, with headquarters in the office of C. F. von Hermann, forecaster, registered 34 degrees Thursday morning, but will not drop so low Friday, though Friday will be just as fair as Thursday ever was or hoped to be, according to Mr. von Hermann's statement.

It may be that the average of the day will be ten degrees above the Thursday mark, but that is more or less problematical as the only thing the weather man is fairly sure of is that the temperature will be higher.

'HOME CHARITY FIRST,' SAYS HERBERT HOOVER

Relief Leader Says American Children Must Be Provided for First.

New York, January 6.—Money for relief of European children is wanted only from American communities where children are well provided with the necessities of life, Herbert Hoover declared today in answering objections raised by city officials at a meeting to organize the local campaign in behalf of the European relief council.

"Charity begins at home," said Mr. Hoover, after Bird S. Coler, commissioner of the department of public welfare, said he was "not sure" that he should appeal for European children while New York institutions caring for unfortunate youngsters "were on the verge of bankruptcy."

Mr. Hoover said it was a "disgrace if any child in New York is in want." He pointed out that this city is the richest in the world and has an eighteen months' supply of foodstuffs in storage. A suggestion by Mr. Coler that part of the money raised here be donated to local charities was not approved by Mr. Hoover.

After the meeting, it was announced that the campaign for funds will be started soon with Mayor Hylan acting as chairman of the local committee.

ZIMBALIST TO ATTRACT
MANY MUSIC LOVERS

The first day's sale of tickets for the recital of Efrem Zimbalist, for the auditorium Monday evening, gives assurance that a large and representative audience will hear the famous violinist in first Atlanta appearance. It was announced yesterday by Johnnie Evans, of the Evans-Salter musical bureau, who has charge of arrangements. Large blocks of seats were taken by several colleges, and there will be many visitors from out of town. Efrem Zimbalist, known as one of the most polished of musicians and noted for the delicacy of his touch and the perfection of his playing, has been before the American public for about ten years, and has climbed from fame as a boy prodigy to a high place among matured violinists.

Seats for the Zimbalist recital may be had at the Cable Piano company's store at prices ranging from $1 to $22.

MILLION AND HALF ADDED TO CAPITAL

Bibb Manufacturing Company Increases Stock to $7,500,000—Since 1913 Textile Concern Has Made Enormous Profits.

Macon, Ga., January 6.—(Special.) To carry out a plan of expansion due to the better outlook for future trade, the Bibb Manufacturing company today voted to increase its capital stock by a million and a half dollars, making the total capital $7,500,000. The new issue is to be actual cash stock to be used in providing funds for expansion at the mills in Macon, Columbus and Porterdale.

Many men prominent in banking circles, and also in the textile industry, were in attendance at today's meeting. Among them were Mills B. Lane, of Savannah; W. C. Bradley, of Columbus; Judge Samuel B. Adams, of Savannah; H. Weber, of Savannah; L. W. Robert, of Atlanta. All the officers of the company were present.

After today's meeting, notices were sent to all stockholders showing that the new stock will be issued as full paid stock and will be offered to the present stockholders, or their assignees, at par in the proportion of one share of new stock for each four shares held on February 15, at which time the subscription list will open. After February 15, if there is any remaining stock unsold the directors are given the right to sell to other than stockholders, provided none of the stock is sold below par. It was also decided that the quarterly dividend of 3 per cent previously declared for the present dividend period, will be paid on the new issue July 1 and October 1 of this year.

It was shown by the statement of the chairman of the board of directors today, that the company's net earnings from September 30, 1912, to August 31, 1920, after deducting all depreciation charges, has amounted to $16,553,423.99; that the cash disbursements for additions to property and plant from January 1, 1912, to January 1, 1921, had amounted to $9,669,690.02; that the cash dividends paid to stockholders during the same period had amounted to $2,579,394.17; that the stock dividends issued to shareholders during the same period amounted to $4,500,000, and that $250,000 of preferred stock of the company had been retired.

NEW TRAFFIC RECORD FOR CANAL IN 1920

Panama, January 6.—During the calendar year 1920, ships numbering 2,314 with a total tonnage of 10,378,000 tons, and carrying 11,236,000 tons of cargo, passed through the Panama canal, according to an official statement made here today. This established a new high record for the great waterway, exceeding the traffic of the fiscal year ending June 30 last, by approximately 20 per cent, being nearly 50 per cent above that for the calendar year of 1919.

VOTE RECOUNT SHOWS NET GAIN FOR HENRY FORD

Washington, January 6.—The senate committee's recount of votes in the Michigan senatorial contest between Senator Newberry and Henry Ford up to noon today showed a net gain of 273 votes for Mr. Ford over Senator Newberry, it was announced today.

CALIFORNIA ASKS FOR NO TREATY WITH JAPANESE

Sacramento, Cal., January 6.—A joint resolution, requesting the federal government to conclude no treaty with Japan that would extend citizenship rights to Japanese or that would nullify the California alien law, was favorably reported by the state senate committee on federal relations today. It will come up for final action in the senate probably next week.

Whether the woman's party, having won suffrage, should disband, or whether it should continue as a political organization to fight for the future equality of woman, is the big question to be determined by the national convention of women voters which is soon to assemble in Washington.

APPROPRIATION BILL OUT OF COMMITTEE

Washington, January 6.—The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, the big salary measure, reported out today by the house appropriations committee, carried a total of $112,228,728, or $257,156 less than departments asked for, and $5,728,771 below the amount appropriated for the current year.

As an indication of the war-time increase, the bill's total in 1916 was $88,910,792, but as one means of cutting expenses the committee lopped off salaries for 12,143 employees in the District of Columbia. An appropriation of $10,000,000 was recommended for the bureau of internal revenue to be used largely in enforcement of prohibition.

Largest Cuts.
The largest cuts in appropriations for departments, as compared with those of last year, were war department, $6,128,728; department of commerce, $2,867,250; treasury, $2,297,870; and navy, $332,770.

The subcommittee estimated that an additional $15,000,000 would be saved if congress followed the recommendation of the subcommittee that the $240 annual bonus granted federal employees not apply in the case of employees whose pay is adjustable by wage boards or similar authority in accord with commercial rates paid coaly for the same class of service.

War Activities.
The subcommittee explained that the excess of $75,194,943 in the present bill over that for the fiscal year 1916 resulted largely from federal activities growing out of the war.

Practically all of the amount cut from the department of war was due to a reduction of $3,785,000 in the allowance of the census bureau, which is completing its work on the last census.

No decrease in the number of employees of the bureau of war risk insurance is required, but the bureau's appropriation was reduced from $10,324,000 to $7,142,000.

LAURENS TO VOTE
ON $250,000 ISSUE
OF SCHOOL BONDS
Dublin, Ga., January 6.—(Special.) Laurens county board of education has authorized County School Superintendent Z. Whitehurst to go forward with all plans for an election on the question of issuing $250,000 in bonds for the purpose of building new rural school houses. A resolution endorsing progressive ideas in education, and pledging co-operation with every movement for better rural schools was passed at the regular monthly meeting of the board this week.

In agreeing to endorse the bond issue, the board made the statement that with the local school tax in effect over the county this year, Laurens county can issue bonds and build school houses with a levy of three and one-half mills. This will pay the interest, provide a sinking fund, and help maintain the schools. If the people vote against the issue, a levy of 5 mills can be made, and the school house built during a period of five years instead of within one year. The board favored the bond plan, as it will get the school houses at a lower tax rate.

SHOT BY DEPUTY AS AUTO THIEF,
MERCHANT DIES
Rome, Ga., January 6.—John Ray, well known merchant of Calhoun, Ga., who was shot near there today by deputies who mistook the car he was driving for a stolen machine, died today as a result of word received from Calhoun.

The deputies had been asked to look out for a stolen automobile and when Mr. Ray came by in his car which had been cut down and corresponded with the description of the stolen machine, he claimed the officers called on him to halt and fired almost at the same time. The deputy accused of the shooting has been arrested.

Today Is Christmas
On Greek Calendar;
Will Hold Services
Some hundred members of Atlanta's Greek colony attended the Greek Christmas services observed at the Greek Orthodox church, at Garnet street and Central avenue, from midnight to 4 o'clock Friday morning.

Today is the Christmas of the Orthodox Greeks, who reckon time by the Julian calendar, and not by the Gregorian, which is the common use. The service from midnight to 4 o'clock this morning is the only observance of the day.

The custom of giving presents on Christmas day is not observed by the Greeks, who celebrate this pretty custom upon their New Year's day, which comes Friday, January 12.

Children's Chorus Is Organized.

The organization of a children's chorus for the young people of Atlanta is announced by the juvenile department of the Atlanta Music study club, which is to be under the direction of Miss Kate Harralson and Miss Ruth Weagand, of the Atlanta public school. The first rehearsal will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, immediately preceding the regular meeting of the juvenile department, which will be held in the annex of the Ponce de Leon Baptist church. All children in the city who are interested in singing and who would like to join this chorus are invited to attend. Miss Harralson states that she has a number of extremely interesting choral works to teach the children, which will not only be of great help to them in any musical study that they might be making, but will also be highly interesting as well.

BL. C'H' ADS GO QUICK BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quickly by a simple method that dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of caliche powder from your drugist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briefly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The caliche powder and the hot water have just dissolved them. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsightly—and unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out. While the simple application of caliche powder and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin clear and the pores in their natural condition. You can get caliche powder at any drug store. If you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.

SAYS CORPORATION OPEN TO BUSINESS

Secretary Houston Explains Methods by Which Exporters Can Gain Advances From the War Finance Corporation.

Washington, January 6.—The War Finance corporation is open for business, Secretary Houston said today, adding that the corporation would carry out the law creating it in the spirit in which the statute was enacted.

The corporation's purpose is to give congress in overriding the president's veto of the resolution to revive the corporation's activities. The treasury, secretary said, means to be adopted by the corporation in making advances to exporters would not be determined until it was known what needs the corporation would be called upon to meet. Funds for making the loans must be borrowed by the corporation or the treasury, he said, but until it is known how much money will be required it would be poor policy to pay interest on the loan.

The corporation therefore will wait until applications for advances under the terms of the law are made, he added. Secretary Houston said the fact that the corporation cannot make advances directly to producers, but must extend its loans to exporters or institutions financing exports must not be lost sight of. Applications are required by law, he explained, to satisfy the corporation that they cannot obtain the desired loan elsewhere on reasonable terms, and to insure adequate security and the export of goods.

With the approval of the corporation from this it would appear, he added, that an exporter must have his contract before a loan from the corporation can be obtained.

Another member of the corporation's board of directors said, before applications can have the fullest attention.

SHORT AND UGLY WORD IS PASSED

That a little thing like an "unmannered liar" is more or less a joke to him, he said.

"I don't think anything is to be gained by bandying words with Mayor Stewart," he said. "All the government wants to do is to get the same word repeated in Savannah is action, that's all."

"We would like him to take a lesson from Atlanta, and show the same interest in seeing that bootleggers are kept on the run that is evinced by officials here. We are given the very best of co-operation in the Capital City. We would like to get the same treatment in Savannah."

Mayor Stewart has employed his time to aid, but seems to have forgotten the adage that "the Lord helps those who help themselves." We want active help from him; not the indifference which has greeted our work so long."

CLASH FORESHADOWED BETWEEN DEPARTMENTS

been presented to it by Secretary Wilson.

Difficulty between the two government departments over the admission of aliens to the United States is said to date back to the cases of Alfred Nagel, Latvian secretary, whose admission to the United States even temporarily was held up for long period by the department of labor charged were grounds with his request in Savannah. Since then numerous aliens admitted to the United States by the immigration authorities without the customary reference of their cases to the state department.

Newport News, Va., January 6.—Donald O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, left Newport News for Norfolk this afternoon almost immediately after notice of his parole by Secretary of Labor Wilson was given. He was accompanied by Peter MacSwiney, brother of the late John MacSwiney, who accompanied him from Cork on the steamship West Cannon, and J. L. Faucett, of New York, consul general of the Irish republic.

"Prince of Abyssinia" Identified as Flag Desecrator and Slayer
Chicago, January 6.—Identification of Grover C. Redding, styled "prince of Abyssinia," and Oscar McGavie, his alleged chief lieutenant, as the men who shot in a riot last June, was made in court today by state witnesses. Redding, McGavie and six others are on trial charged with murder as the result of an Abyssinian demonstration in which an American flag was burned in the street.

Daniel J. Spillard, a waiter in a cafe near the riot scene, testified that Redding killed Rose when the sailor attempted to protect the flag. Redding was burning an American flag over which he had poured oil. Spillard testified, "Policeman Joseph F. Owens came up and Oscar McGavie shot him. Rose appeared then, saluted the burning flag and said: 'My God, you must respect my flag.' Redding then fired and hit the sailor."

Another witness, Harry Scott, testified that Redding and McGavie fired the shots in a nearby cigar store which resulted in the death of Hoyt, a clerk in the store. Several other witnesses identified all eight defendants as being present at the demonstration.

COX IS GOVERNOR OF MASSACHUSETTS

Boston, January 6.—Channing H. Cox was today inaugurated governor of Massachusetts, amid traditional scenes of ceremonial brilliance. Vice President-elect Calvin Coolidge, his predecessor, after relinquishing office, left the state house without escort, one more private citizen for the few weeks that remain before his inauguration at Washington.

Governor Demands Return of Negro To State Prison

Jackson, Miss., January 6.—Governor Lee M. Russell today notified Sheriff Shannon, of Warren county, that he would give him until Monday, January 18, to deliver R. T. Goldsby, negro, to the penitentiary authorities at Parchman farm, and that in the event of his failure or refusal to do so the governor would either remove him from office or institute proceedings for possession of the negro.

Goldsby was sentenced in Warren county to a five-year term in the penitentiary for receiving stolen goods. After a short while in prison his sentence was suspended by the governor upon representations of the negro's attorneys that he was in bad health and could live but a short time. An insistent demand was made for the return of Goldsby to the prison, whereupon the governor cancelled the suspension. Goldsby was re-arrested in Chicago, where he was attending the national republican convention, apparently in good health.

After being returned to the prison Goldsby said to have bribed a guard and made his escape. The guard pleaded guilty to accepting the bribe and now is serving a term in jail at Vicksburg awaiting trial on several charges. Sheriff Shannon said to have informed the governor that he was acting on the advice of his attorneys in holding Goldsby.

MRS. LOUDERMILK GRANTED LIBERTY, M'CALLERS HELD

Anniston, Ala., January 6.—(Special.)—Mrs. Rosa Loudermilk, held in connection with the killing of her husband, John W. Loudermilk, in his home here December 17, when released from custody today, following her preliminary hearing before Judge E. D. Willett in inferior court.

Charles A. McCullars, who was arrested while assisting with the corpse of Loudermilk, was held by Judge Willett without bond for trial. Officers alleged that McCullars confessed killing Loudermilk in a fight, following the discovery by Loudermilk of McCullars in the room.

MONTGOMERY PLANS BIGGER WATER SUPPLY

Montgomery, Ala., January 6.—A contract involving $10,000 for the sinking of four new artesian wells and necessary machinery was awarded a Memphis, Tenn. contracting firm today by the city commission of Montgomery. Work is to be started within fifteen days and when completed the available minimum water supply for the city and suburbs is expected to be above 6,000,000 gallons daily.

DISARMAMENT PLANS RAPPEL BY BRITTEN

Illinois Congressman Fathers Resolution for Big Navy Program.

Washington, January 6.—Opposing all plans for cutting down the nation's naval strength through disarmament agreements with foreign countries, Representative Britten, of Illinois, republican member of the house naval affairs committee, today introduced a joint resolution to direct the navy department to proceed at once with its big building program.

Coming on the heels of the naval reduction movement in the senate, the Britten resolution was designed by its author to put squarely before congress the question whether this country should endeavor to join with Great Britain and Japan in "naval holiday" or go ahead with the construction of ships.

The resolution declares "that the United States is desirous to commit its economic and political independence to the fetters of an international treaty making this firming naval armaments, thereby involving its freedom of action in ways and for objects not at present discernable and that all warship construction authorized to date be completed in the shortest practicable time, commensurate with the nation's desire for economy and sound business practice in the private and government shipbuilding yards."

Mr. Britten declared in the statement that there was no human way for the British navy to retain the supremacy of the sea without this so-called "naval holiday" and that there could be no halfway house between entire trust and no armament on the one hand, and distrust with such armament as we think desirable on the other."

FUNERAL SERVICES For Owens Johnson To Be Held Friday

Funeral services for Owens Johnson, prominent Atlanta attorney, who died at his residence, 575 West Peachtree street, at noon Thursday, following several weeks' illness with pneumonia, will be conducted from the residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. Henry Alford Porter, pastor of the Second Baptist church. Interment will follow in West View cemetery.

Surviving Mr. Johnson are his widow and a daughter, Mrs. T. Robinson, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Johnson was a member of the Masonic fraternity, and was affiliated with both the state and Atlanta Bar associations. At his death, in his 55th year, he had been a member of the state bar for thirty years.

Mr. Johnson's death was the culmination of an attack of pneumonia, which followed a stroke of paralysis on November 27. His death brings deep sorrow to hundreds of friends throughout the city. By those of his profession, he was considered one of the ablest and most conscientious men in the city.

Mr. Johnson was a native of Florida. A graduate of the University of Virginia, he was admitted to the bar before the late Judge Spencer Atkinson and for several years practiced law in Brunswick. Active in civic affairs, he was elected mayor of Brunswick and was commended for his efficient and progressive administration. He made his home in Atlanta fifteen years ago.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock. A large body of prominent citizens will accompany the body to an honorary escort.

LOCAL RETAILERS REDUCING PRICES

Says R. V. Bergen, Secretary of the Atlanta Retail Food Dealers' Association.

R. V. Bergen, secretary of the Atlanta Retail Food Dealers' Association, takes the position that Atlanta retail grocers have steadily met the diminishing cost of products, and, commencing upon a dispatch from Moultrie which reported that turkeys have been selling there by the farmers at 30 cents a pound, he questions the accuracy of the report and says that if it is true, those who sold turkeys at that rate were very foolish in doing so when they could have shipped them to any wholesale market at much better prices.

Mr. Bergen submits telegram received at the Atlanta branch of Armour & Co. from R. G. Giles & Co. of Nashville, quoting 51 cents shipping point for 4,000 pounds of turkeys, and stating that the supply is scarce at that price.

Commenting further upon the situation, Mr. Bergen says: "There could not have been many turkeys for sale in Moultrie at 30 cents per pound, as reported, and any producer who sold even a small lot at that price must have sold too late to ship to Atlanta, as a large number of retailers and packing houses were vigorously, but unsuccessfully, searching all over the southeast for turkeys at any price."

Turkeys Were Scarce. "Turkeys were scarce this Christmas, and every known producer was being offered a much higher price than 30 cents. One well-known retailer of Atlanta received a quotation of 52 cents for turkeys, but he could get none even at that price. One local packing house asserts they would have paid as high as 60 cents a pound to supply the local trade."

"A certain reputable firm of retailers purchased 204 pounds of turkeys direct from a producer friend at Moultrie, Ga., for 35 cents a pound on foot, and he today gave us the following accurate figures for your information:

204 lbs. turkey, original cost, $50.00
Phone message, .35
Telegram, .50
Express (including container), 7.50
Dressing turkeys (outside labor), 1.50

Total cost of turkeys, $61.75
Total weight of turkeys, 174 lbs.
One turkey, bad condition, discarded (pounds), 8 1/2

Total weight, salable turkeys (lbs.), 165 1/2
6 1/2 lbs. turkey, bad, broken, sold for half price (pounds), 3

Total weight sold, 162 1/2 lbs.
Selling price of turkeys at 60c lb., $98.50
Gross profit on selling price, $36.75

"Selling at a gross profit of 17.4 per cent. and deducting 15 per cent. which is the average overhead expense, such as rent, light, clerk hire, etc., this leaves the retailer only 2.4 per cent. net profit. You can readily see why the cost to the consumer is greater at the 'butcher's block' than at the barnyard."

Meats Have Dropped. "Regarding the retail prices of meats—hams and bacon may not have dropped in Moultrie, but they certainly have in Atlanta. We quote the following facts given us by reliable firms of retailers: Hams (at retail) have had a decrease of over 35 per cent. within the past three months and bacon dropped 17 per cent. Pork has decreased to the consumer 19 per cent. in the past two months and 70 per cent. in the past three months, while common beef has had a 29 per cent. reduction."

"It is true that the better grades of beef have decreased only slightly, but this is due to the decided scarcity of better grades of cattle. The beef which has had a big decrease in price cannot be the beef the retailers are getting, because there has been a drop of 50 cents for the better grades of beef in the past several months."

"Of course, the retailers could probably buy cheaper grades of beef, but the consumer refuses to accept it, as long as there is a scarcity. We cannot expect a decrease."

"The prices of Atlanta retailers are coming down just as quickly as the packers' prices drop, and any who fail to come down of their own accord are quickly 'brought down' by competition."

"Local retailers are playing square, and are doing as much to bring down the cost of living as is within their power."

"HIP-POCKET" DRIVE IS STAGED BY GANTT

Scarcity of Pistols and Liquor Attributed to War on Crime.

A highly encouraging follow-up to recent intensive crusades made by city and county officials against liquor, pistols, banditry, and other vice and crime, in Atlanta, is the report made by prohibition enforcement officers, who staged an auxiliary raid Wednesday and Thursday.

The officers declare that after visiting practically every pool room and other place of idling in the city and searching the occupants, they had found only four bottles of liquor and one pistol despite the fact that, in addition to a large number of white men, they examined something like 800 negroes for whisky, guns and other evidences of lawlessness. The raids were led by D. J. Gantt, head of the federal officers.

"The liquor is simply not here," stated one of the federal officers who was among the crusaders, "and if the negroes and idling white men possess pistols, they certainly did not carry them to the resorts we visited."

When asked if the absence of liquor and pistols did not indicate that Atlanta had received a decided impetus toward a thorough clean up by raids and campaigns against viciousness that preceded the "hip-pocket crusade" of Federal Prohibition Director Gantt and his men Wednesday and Thursday, the officer stated that he attributed to a large extent the absence of whisky and pistols to the determined stand taken against vice in all its forms here by the grand jury and county and city officers.

The crusade directed for the past two days against those who would seek to carry anything "on the hip" that ought not to be there, was staged by Mr. Gantt and his officers in an effort to complete the work of making Atlanta the "spotless town" of the country.

Armed with search warrants that covered the several places they wished to enter, which included pool rooms, barber shops and other places where men are said to gather, the federal officers, aided by city detectives, went unannounced into the various resorts and after placing guards at all entrances, went through the pockets, pants, overcoats and other likely hiding places in which liquor or pistols might be kept. This series of raids was made until practically every pool room and many of the barber shops in the city were entered, and the fact that only four bottles of whisky and one pistol were brought to light proved a changed moral tone among the idlers of this city that was nothing less than a genuine surprise to the officers.

COUNCIL WOULD ADMIT UNSKILLED LABORERS

New York, January 6.—Representatives of the national immigration council will go before the senate committee on immigration in Washington next week to urge that unskilled laborers be encouraged to enter this country rather than be restricted, it was announced here today.

Many large engineering projects in this country cannot be consummated without "brawn," declared F. C. Hayes, secretary of the organization. "While there is much unemployment at present," he said, "there is practically no idleness in the ranks of unskilled labor. There is hardly a highway or railroad in the country that is not in crying need of repairs and the labor cannot be obtained for it."

IN LETTER HARDING DECLINES INVITATION

Writes Governor Dorsey He Will Be Unable to Attend Tariff Congress.

Governor Hugh M. Dorsey Thursday night received a letter from President-elect Warren G. Harding expressing the latter's regret of his inability to attend the Southern Tariff congress in Atlanta January 27 to 29. The governor recently telegraphed the Ohio senator, supplementing the invitation of a number of southerners that he attend the congress.

Mr. Harding's letter to Governor Dorsey is as follows: "I beg you to not think me lacking in courtesy because I have been so tardy in making a befitting acknowledgment of your very courteous recommendation that I accept the invitation of the Southern Tariff association to address the congress to be held in Atlanta on January 27 to 29. The simple truth is I have delayed making a definite expression of regret because I was hopeful that I might work out a plan by which I might briefly participate in that notable gathering. It is now that it is wholly impossible for me to do so, and am writing you to express a very genuine regret that I cannot accept this invitation."

"No one has ever come to the presidency who more sincerely desires that which holds for winning the concord of all the southern citizenship of America and have the people of the south understand how our American interests are in common and that only in complete concord can we hope to go on to the destined American fulfillment. Notwithstanding my inability to come at this time, I do very much hope that there will come occasions during my administration when I may come to the south and have your people know me as I wish to know them."

Mr. Harding also wrote James A. Metcalf, president of the Atlanta Foreign Trade club, expressing his regrets.

HOLMES INSTITUTE BOARD HOLDS MEET

The annual meeting of trustees of Holmes Institute was held in the chapel of the institution Thursday at 2 o'clock. Rev. W. J. Williams presided and made the opening speech and outlined the work for the institution for the New Year. Rev. H. R. Holmes, president, made his annual report giving an itemized statement of collections and disbursements.

The report showed that more than 200 students matriculated in the institute and 60 in the boarding department in 1920. According to the report a large per cent of these students were given free training, representing those whose parents were unable to send them to the public schools.

The report on the new building of the institute showed that work was progressing and many donations had been made by prominent citizens of both races. A resolution was offered by Rev. H. P. Canady commending the report and administration of President Holmes. The board passed a resolution commending the institution to citizens of Atlanta and the south.

An educational mass meeting was authorized by the trustees to raise $3,000 from pledges and subscriptions on the fifth Sunday in January. Trustees elected are: Rev. W. J. Williams, chancellor; Rev. J. A. Lindsay, vice president and chairman of the finance committee; Rev. C. G. Gray, treasurer; Rev. H. D. Canady, auditor; Rev. Horace Williams and R. H. Singleton, new trustees.

Error in Report.
In the publication of the police report on arrests for the year 1920 an error was made in the number of negro women arrested. Only 3,181 arrests were of negro women instead of 13,310 as published.

Twenty-Three Towns Within Gun-Range Pay More for Gas

Persons interested in the gas rates of Atlanta will be glad to learn how favorably they compare with the charges in other cities. A glance at the map of four states tells the story.

It shows that within a few hours' ride of this city—north, east or south—the gas rates are way above those existing here. The observer can count twenty-three cities and towns whose consumers bear a burden of gas bills far greater than do consumers in Atlanta.

The figures jump out of the page.

Just Look at These Rates in Four States

Scan the spots. You will notice that the prices range from 30 cents to $2.60 higher than Atlanta's prices. It is hard to understand how so great a difference can be possible; yet that map and those figures are gospel fact. The figures are based on an average consumption of 2,000 cubic feet per month. Thus, the Atlanta consumer pays $2.90, while a Fayetteville, N. C., consumer, for instance, must give up $5.50 per 2,000 cubic feet.

And the Quality Here Is Higher

The cost of manufacturing gas is the same wherever mixed plants, using both the coal and water gas processes, operate. The Atlanta plant naturally has to use just as many gallons of oil and as many tons of coal, and as much labor, proportionately, as any other plant. In fact, the local company consumes more material and man power than most towns, for it produces better gas.

This company is required by law to deliver gas of a higher grade than is required in certain other cities.

The difference lies in heating quality. This element is usually measured by the number of B. T. U. (British Thermal Units) contained therein. The Railroad Commission has ruled that the Georgia Railway and Power Company must produce gas of 575 B. T. U. The regulations in many other towns require gas of only 525 to 540 B. T. U.

Therefore, it is seen that Atlanta's low figure purchases not merely the same amount of gas, but gas of an equal and often much higher quality than do the vastly higher figures in the other spots.

We Give Away $1,000 Worth Every Day

It would seem impossible for the local company to maintain such comparatively high service at such a vastly lower rate than others.

And it is impossible.

The only reason why the condition exists is that this company manages to live on while it is losing $1,000 a day.

The audited and sworn accounts of this company show that it costs us $1.18 to take in $1.00 of revenue. That 18 cents per dollar totals the $1,000 daily loss.

Such a condition cannot continue indefinitely.

The equipment is running down and has got to be improved. This will cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. We've got to borrow that money. We can't borrow while we are losing.

The only salvation is an increase in rates that will give a fair return. Then we can borrow. Then we can improve service.

Bulls Are Making Ready For Onslaught on Bears

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, January 6.—Professional traders on the stock exchange floor can grumble and groan all they want to, but there are other traders here now, who are making a noise like a bull. In brief the bulls no longer have things their own way, and those who are either committed on the short side or are blind. The market opened strong this morning with prices up from large fractions to a 1/2 or more. Then there was a drive against the shorts that carried prices up with the market bolting from 1 to 3 points or more. Part of this advance was subsequently lost. But then after a period of dullness there was another upward movement.

Automobile shares were especially strong. Studebaker, which closed at 46 1/2, advanced to 49 1/2 during the first hour and then dropped back to 48 1/2. Chandler was also strong with an early gain of 3/4 point. General Motors acted very well in view of the fact that the stock taken over from Durant is still coming on the market every day. The rails, however, reflected the pessimistic talk going the rounds of railroad officials, who are blue over the slump in traffic. If they begin to cry again for higher rates with the operating ratio where it is today it will be the last of private management.

Against War Finance Measure.

Today's most interesting news development was the report read by Thomas W. Lamont, a partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., before the New York Chamber of Commerce on the foreign trade situation. Lamont is chairman of the committee on finance and currency. The report, which was finished and printed before President Wilson vetoed the bill reviving the War Finance Corporation, is strongly against the measure as passed and re-passed by the senate and congress. The view is taken that the credit of many European countries is exhausted and cannot be revived until economic peace is restored, a factor which depends largely on settling the amount of indemnity Germany is to pay.

Germany's Creditors Affected.

It is a truism that has been expressed in the peace treaty of Versailles and at every subsequent meeting of the supreme economic council, the report says that "Germany's ruin would vitally affect almost all of her creditors and that therefore as the first step of reconstruction, the indemnity question must be solved in a way that will permit Germany to survive and to fulfill her obligations to the maximum of her ability. The reiteration of this statement is not a plea for Germany. It is a consideration closely bearing upon all of the nations of the old world and also upon all American export relations."

Billions in Credit.

The report points out that since the beginning of the war the United States has sold to Europe and to the world at large some $18,000,000,000 of goods in excess of what the world has been able to pay for in goods; that during the war our government loaned $10,000,000,000 to allied purchasing countries; that since the armistice foreign trade has been financed privately until today there is some $3,000,000,000 of credits thus frozen.

But while strongly opposing the War Finance Corporation the report favors co-operation between that government institution and the privately financed corporations now being formed under the Edge law to promote exports. "Your committee could well imagine," the report says, "that some plan might be devised by which the War Finance Corporation could co-operate by associating itself with such Edge corporations in a way that, within well-defined limits might give additional protection to the debenture holders of such Edge corporations, while the War Finance Corporation, as a creditor, would rank ahead of the stockholders and would be drawn upon only after the failure of the stockholders would have been exhausted."

United States mail boat Pullitzer, with at least seven men on board,

has been missing since December

15 and may have been lost in the

Straits of Shelikof, Alaska, Secretary

Payne was advised today by Governor Riggs, of Alaska.

Both the navy department and the coast guard service have been asked by Secretary Payne to send out searching vessels.

The governor said the Straits constituted one of the roughest stretches of water along the Alaskan coast, but that there was a possibility that the crew had landed at some Indian village and had not been able as yet to communicate with the outside world.

The Pullitzer may have had some few passengers on board, the governor's message said, but this could not be definitely determined now as persons often traveled on the mail boats for short distances up and down the coast.
